STATEMENT ON THE HOSTAGE-TAKING

I am grateful to all who expressed concern for my well-being in the aftermath of the surreal hostage-taking incident that happened this Sunday morning.

I have already endured more than five years of unjust detention inside the PNP Custodial Center. It was therefore farthest from my mind that on top of this ordeal, I also had to survive the knife of a fellow detainee (reportedly an Islamic extremist) who took me hostage in a desperate attempt to make known their grievances to the public.

After being told by the hostage-taker that since his two other companions were already dead, he's certain he would also be killed and he might just as well also kill me, I consider what happened to me as a near-death experience. If not for the timely intervention of the PNP security force, I don't think I would have come out alive since the hostage-taker was already determined to die and take me with him.

I am now safe and sound except for the lingering pain on my chest where the hostage-taker constantly pressed the point of his knife while holding me hostage. Please also pray for the injured police officer who, like me, was the other but more unfortunate victim of this incident. While I have survived with only a knife mark and some considerable distress, he is still fighting for his life. Let us all pray for his quick recovery.

While I am still trying to recover psychologically and emotionally from this harrowing experience, I am sure of one thing that I learned from it. Being so near death has only made me value life even more.

Thank you for all your prayers. Most of all, I thank the Lord for being by my side during those terrible moments, and for saving my life today.

French statement from #SamRainsy lawyers as French court acquits him of defamation charges brought by Cambodian Prime Minister Hun Sen and his son in law Dy Vichea. #Cambodia

COMMUNIQUE DES AVOCATS DE SAM RAINSY

Notre client a accueilli les deux jugements de relaxe rendus aujourd'hui par le tribunal judiciaire de Paris avec une immense émotion.

Depuis plus de vingt ans Sam Rainsy dénonce les crimes perpétrés par le régime cambodgien et se bat pour promouvoir la démocratie.

Contraint à l'exil, tous ses leviers politiques ont été éliminés par Hun Sen qui tente par tous moyens de le réduire au silence.

En relaxant Sam Rainsy, la justice française reconnaît solennellement avec force la légitimité de son action et consacre sa liberté d'expression.

Le tribunal indique qu'il disposait d'éléments suffisants pour affirmer qu'Hun Sen serait à l'origine de l'assassinat du dirigeant syndicaliste Chea Vichea.

Plus généralement, les magistrats soulignent « le contexte de violence politique et d'exécution extrajudiciaires » qui sévit depuis plus de vingt ans au Cambodge.

Ils rappellent les rapports des organisations de défense des droits de l'homme, les enquêtes de journalistes indépendants et la tentative d'assassinat dont notre client a été victime en 1997.

Concernant cette affaire un procès se tiendra prochainement devant la Cour d'assises de Paris.

Pour notre client, ce jugement est bien plus qu'une victoire personnelle, elle est un espoir pour tous les défenseurs de la liberté et de la justice au Cambodge et ailleurs.
